The Subhash Jan Sewa Samiti, P.O. Raipuria via Khiwada (Somsar Station) Distt. Pali (Rajasthan) have sent a representation requesting that the Government make a clear announcement about Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose being alive. This matter has been subject of inquiry by a Committee headed by Maj. Gen Shah Nawaj Khan and later by a Commission of Inquiry headed by Shri Justice G.D. Khosla, retired Chief Justice of Punjab High Court. Both these inquiries came to a conclusion that Netaji died in a plane crash on the 18th August, 1945. This matter was also raised in Parliament when the then Prime Minister, Shri Morarji Desai, made a statement closing the issue. The issue it appears is sought to be kept alive through Parliament Questions and stray communications like the present one. This may be ignored.

Shrimati Indira Gandhi,
Prime Minister of India,
New Delhi.

Madam,

I have just read a Japanese author's account of how after the plane crash at Taihoku in 1945 which resulted in the death of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, he had arranged to pack the jewelleries etc. picked up from the wreckage. The author says that the jewelleries were later sent to India to be kept in the Museum at the President's house.

Since the people of this country know little about the existence of these jewelleries which would undoubtedly offer a clue to history, I would request you kindly to let me know what you have known or heard about these articles.

In course of my research work on history I asked you a question three or four years ago concerning Lord Mountbatten's appointment as Viceroy. You were then kind enough to reply promptly to my inquiry. But you were then out of office and certainly had more time at your disposal to answer such questions. Though this is sure to be very difficult now, I have decided to take my chance.

In case you do not have any personal knowledge about the matter, kindly do not hesitate to say so.

Most respectfully yours,

H. N. Pandit
